

Accessory Dwelling Units (ADUs)

Also called mother-in-law apartments, or simply ADUs, these homes are secondary to an existing home and are allowed in all of Redmond's residential zones. In most cases, ADUs are limited to 1,500 square feet; they may be attached to, or detached from, the existing home. See the regulations.