Organizations That Provide Housing Stability, Homeless Services, and Housing

Attain Housing
Attain Housing provides transitional housing, case management, and support services including financial assistance to avoid eviction. They help families with children move forward from homelessness to stability.

Catholic Community Services
New Bethlehem Programs offer day center and shelter services in Kirkland for families that are experiencing homelessness.

Eastside Legal Assistance Program
ELAP reaches hundreds of additional people per year thanks to their volunteer programs that harness the time and talent of local attorneys, legal professionals, law students, and dedicated community members to help families avoid eviction.

Friends of Youth
In addition to emergency shelter for youth and young adults, Friends of Youth provides supportive services to help young people achieve their goals in employment, education, mental health, and life.

Hopelink
Hopelink supports multiple types of housing with case management and energy assistance that help families achieve their highest level of self-sufficiency by making lasting change.

Muslim Community Resource Center
MAPS-MCRC provides emergency and transitional housing for women and families in crisis as well as emergency assistance and case management to prevent eviction and keep families housed.

Porchlight
PorchLight volunteers pave the way for men experiencing homelessness on the Eastside to break the cycle of homelessness and lead a stable and productive life. Volunteers bring meals every day of the year, donate their time and money to make our clients feel welcome, cared for, and provided for with food and other essentials.

The Sophia Way
The Sophia Way is dedicated ending homelessness for women in King County. We provide shelter, social services, and permanent housing with support.

YWCA Seattle | King | Snohomish
YWCA’s Family Village Redmond offers 20 units of permanent supportive housing to families and a variety of programs ranging from daycare, housing, and parent workshops.
